Library Dedication

The Springville Memorial Library Board of Trustees chose to approve the renaming of our children's area, to honor a long time library volunteer, board member, and all around supporter. The reading and play areas, previously an unnamed section, will now be known as "The Treva Davis Children's Center". Treva, who came to Springville in 1972 as a school employee, and went on to be the librarian for decades, until her retirement, has been a long time champion of all things library. She has been a board trustee, and served as the President of the board, for many, many years. Her passion for the library was a driving force in the several years long quest to fund and build a new library – something that was achieved just a little over ten years ago, when our current building opened its doors. During that move, the first books to be moved, by Treva herself, were the children's books. Reading to the little ones is one of her favorite things to do – and she has inspired and encouraged hundreds of children to pursue the joy of reading during her time in Springville. There is no more fitting section to bear her name, and no one more worthy of having that special designation, the "Mrs. Davis, The Library Lady" We are grateful to her for her decades of support and hard work in building and maintaining a library our community can be very proud of. Thank you Treva, for all you have done, and continue to do for our library & our community! —The Library Board

Case Closed!

Yet another mystery solved thanks to the hard work of Detective Kaylyn James (Jamie Kruk)! We had another great turnout for “Murder in the Library!” on Saturday, July 8. Our detective cooked a meal, gathered the suspects, marked the crime scene, and still had time to catch the culprit! In order to make this possible, we had some great volunteers. Thanks to: Angel Chizek, Emily and Linda Eldred, Mary-Ann Herring, Torie Hudson, and Brad Wilson. And of course, thanks to Jamie for planning the program for the 4th year in a row. It’s always a fun program, and we can’t wait for the next one!

Summer Reading Finale

Well summer reading is almost over! We’ve had a busy summer with some great programs! We’ve learned about rocks and minerals, about the importance of recycling, about energy and how we use it, and so much more! We’ve made crafts and watched movies, heard some great stories, and most importantly, had a lot of fun! Wednesday August 9th is National Book Lover’s Day, and so on that day we’ll be having our final party, complete with prize giveaway! Don’t miss our last event of the summer! And thanks for spending your summer with us!

Thank YOU!

Early Out Wednesdays

We’re taking a short Wednesday activity break. After Summer Reading ends on the 9th, we will not have activities on Wednesday the 16th or Wednesday the 23rd. But starting Wednesday, August 30th, Early Out Wednesdays are back! We’ll have a movie kickoff day to celebrate their return and to prepare for a year of fun!

Palette Pal Display

Every Monday we have a group called the Palette Pals that meet here to do arts and crafts. They do some great work and we want to show it off! So starting soon, our display case will have their handiwork out for everyone to enjoy! Come take a look! And if you’re interested in joining them, stop by any Monday at 1:00 and see what they’re up to!
