Curbside Service

Your library continues to provide curbside service for the convenience and safety of our patrons. Call us with your book selections, and we can have them ready for you to pick up without coming into the library proper. If you are caring for little ones, just let us know their age, any particular interest and how many books you'd like to check out. We can select appropriate materials and have them ready for you in our curbside basket.

S.T.E.A.M. Kits

We remind you that your library has an excellent array of S.T.E.A.M. Kits available for check out. What are S.T.E.A.M. Kits, anyway? They are educational kits that allow children of various ages to use science, technology, engineering, arts and math in fun ways. We recommend them as a great activity for these cold winter weekends. Learning while playing...what could be better?

Thinking Spring

In April the library will begin offering a series of Master Gardner's programs. As we slog through the Iowa winter, it is encouraging to remember that in 90 days the world will again be thinking about "green up". As American poet Theodore Roethke said, "Deep in their roots, all flowers keep the light".

Knitters & Crocheters

Tuesday, February 1, at 1:00 p.m. patrons who enjoy knitting and crocheting can once again gather with other like-minded folks to work on their projects in front of our fireplace. Transportation can be provided for those who have a need. Just call the library at 319-854-6444 if you'd like to arrange a ride. The library also has yarn available for your use. We hope to make this a monthly event again.
