We want to give a big thanks to all those who participated in the Friends Book and Bake Sale last month! Whether you donated your time, your books, your handmade items, or your baked goods, your help was so appreciated. Of course, if you purchased a book, a knitted hot pad, a baked good, or all three, we want to thank you too! Every penny spent on a Friends of the Library fundraiser comes right back to us. These funds help us with the programs you love, the books you can't stop reading, and many things behind the scenes that keep our library up and running. So we are always grateful for the support of our Friends and patrons. Keep an eye out for the next Friends event, and be sure to follow them on Facebook! You can find them by searching for "Friends of the Springville Memorial Library".

It's on the way...

The summer reading program, that is! In the next few months, look for the announcement and calendar for our summer of fun in "A Universe of Stories!" (Is it here yet?)

Mariah's Corner

This month Mariah has reviewed The Iron Trial, a joint venture by young adult authors Holly Black and Cassandra Clare

What's the biggest test you ever had to take? But the bigger question is, what would you do if you had to fail it? As Callum plans how to fail this big test, he finds that failing can be A LOT harder than passing. The Iron Trial By Holly Black and Cassandra Clare is a hilarious book that I could re-read over and over again. The biggest plot twist near the end of the book had me spinning and I never saw it coming!! I doubt you will either! As Callum makes his way to a rocky start at the Iron Trial test, he ends up getting much more than he bargained for!! And trust me when I say this: You will definitely want to stick around for the ending!

E-Mail Notices

Sometime last year, we set up our system to automatically send e-mails to patrons with overdue items. We are really pleased with the results. If you'd like to get notices that your items are overdue, please email us at spribry@netins.net. Let's cut down the late fees!
